What they're saying now is "Why is a hot babe like RyuZU with a bastard like that?!"

Gonna kick yer ass.

Shit

What kinda joke...

Curse him curse him curse him

Damn

I have performed a wide array of actions to increase Naoto-sama's status, but...

The reaction all around is strange, is it not...?

I sup-pose so.

It feels as though it is as easy as teaching cows to walk upright.

It is difficult to under-stand.

<3,

RyuZU, you're really pretty!

ねー ねー

We wanna talk to you for a bit, kay?

Hey.

Well then...

Yes, I know.

SFX: whoosh

Hey, we're...

2nd years... and...

We're leaving.

SFX: whooosh

Hey!

Ah...

Hold it.

SFX: sigh

Get Lost.

Is human speech too difficult for you?

I already told you.

trembling...

SFX: frozen in shock

Sigh...

We can finally go home...

You're a lifesaver. I wanna get right to sleep.

Please do not worry.

I shall take care of the arrangements.

Ha ha...

Oh, that's right. I'm homeless...

I guess not. I'm sure they're working desperately now.

The maintenance still isn't over, is it?

UNH...

Umm... What was that group...?

THAT WEIRD SOUND IS STILL PRES-ENT.

TL: The furigana says "Meister Guild", but the kanji says "Engineers Without Borders"

They are an international organization whose objective is the preservation and maintenance of the planetary machinery, yes?

Right!

"Meister Guild".

They're so awesome.

Armed with the best in technology and equipment, they combat faults in every city.

The whole world over, there are only 6305 of them, and the majority of them are first-class clockmakers.

Why do you put yourself down?

But...

I'm not like them at all.

I'm penniless, homeless...

The Naoto-sama who repaired me is the world's greatest engineer.

Ehhh?

You're still saying that?

I can just hear a little better, that's all.

Well, Naoto-sama,

there is a place we can stay overnight...

IS THAT SO...?

I'm normal.

Totally normal.

YOU WANNA GET BEATEN TO DEATH?

WHAT WAS THAT, ASSHOLE ...?

I have increased my under-standing of Naoto-sama by one level.

You should be thankful that you have not yet laid a hand on Naoto-sama.

Naoto-sama may be a pervert, but it is fortunate that he doesn't enjoy seeing severed heads, is it not?

These aren't just frequent gravitational anomalies, are they?

Marie-sensei, if it keeps deteriorating like this...

Yeah.

Worst case scenario, the city machinery structure may collapse.

Kyoto falls under the jurisdiction of our "army", and we understand the city's functionality.

Prof- essor Breguet!

Stay calm!

But...

Sigh...

We will do just fine without you.

We are capable technicians ourselves, and we're standing ready to serve you. Surely we can help...

There's no need.

You'll just get in the way, so you novices should stay back.

That's what I'm telling you.

WHA...

Hehe

Who do you think I am?

The first-class clockmaker of the "Meister Guild",

Marie Bell Breguet!

YOU'RE ALL WELL-KNOWN FIRST-CLASS ENGINEERS YOURSELVES!

EVERYONE HERE IS THE SAME!

PLEASE REMEMBER THAT, AND TAKE IT TO HEART!

THERE IS NOTHING WE CAN'T SOLVE.

UP UNTIL NOW, YOU'VE EASILY HANDLED THE MAINTENANCE OF FREQUENT CITY DAMAGE.

Well then, let's get back to work.

Have you all finished preparations?

Observation Team, please hurry up and locate the source!

Top priority!

Excellent.

Of course, Marie-sensei!

GENIUSES, SALLY FORTH!!
